In view of the fact that no dispatches have been received at the State Department today from Ambassador Leishman, at Constantinople, it is assumed that communication with Tarsus and Adana is either broken off or that the conditions in those places have become quieter. There is much anxiety, however, concerning the state of the American missionaries. NEW YORK, April 19.—Daniel Minir Rogers, one of the American mission-aries murdered in Asia Minor, was a Congregational minister ordained to the ministry in East Dorset, Vt. The identity of the other, Mr. Maurer, has not been clearly established. Rev. D. M. Rogers is a son of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Rogers, of New Britain, Conn. He was ordained in 1896, after graduating from Harvard, and after entering the mission field went to Tarsus, where he relieved his father-in-law, Dr. Theodore Christie, as head of St. Paul's Institute there. Before going to the Harvard Theological Seminary he studied at Princeton University, being a member of the class of 1902. He leaves widow and infant child.

Foreign intervention is almost certain to result in a wholesale massacre of Christians throughout Turkey, and no one is more aware of this fact than the partisans who are laboring to depose the Sultan and the present Turkish regime.

constant OPLE, April 19.—Despite the fact has regraphic communication with action has been resumed, little news is being received, and it is stated that nearly all of the telegraph operators have been killed.

Massacres are still in progress throughout all of the district, and it is believed that the worst is yet to come. A belated message from the British vice consul at Adana states that conditions there have not been exaggerated, that murder and rapine rule, and he significantly adds that "even worse trouble is feared,"

The next outbreak is expected from Alexandretta.

Advices received from there today state that the entire Christian population has gathered in the Christian residence quarter, that barricades are being erected, and that they are preparing to defend themselves at any cost against the infuriated Mussulman invaders. Serious disorders are reported at Smyrna. No advices are at hand as to the extent-of this outbreak. The feeling there has been intense. Eight foreign warships are hastening toward Turkish waters, and it is believed there will soon be protection available for the foreign residents. Some other interesting facts are re-ported concerning the March excavation, and work on the canal in that tion, and work on the canal in that month. The figures show that five cubic yards were removed every second in which the force was at work. The average daily excavation was 143,716 cubic yards, the highest since the American occupation.

In addition to excavation, a great deal of work was done on the dams, locks, and the like. In the building of the dams necessary to impound the water at Gatun, Pedre Miguel, and Miraflores a large amount of excavated material is used.

when Secretary of War Dickinsen reaches the canal zone he will find the excavation and other work on the canal being pushed with feverish energy, and the progress on every hand at its height. In the light of the developments on the zone in March, completion of the canal by 1913 cannot be regarded as an impossibility.

A striking example of what a man can do by himself in the educational line is shown in Francis Wilson, playing at the National in "When Knights Were Bold."

His parents had not the means to do much in the way of education for their children, and at the age of ten Francis had already embarked upon his stage career. He had to read books and to dig out for himself what had be n defined him in his earlier years, and so nied him in his earlier years, and so navy. imbued with the idea that if he produced a masterpiece some fame was assured him.

To the artists and sculptors the cardinal is very accommodating. Not that he has a penchant for having his picture taken, but because he is interested in these struggling talented folk the cardinal seldom refuses a request made by one of them for a sitting.

While the cardinal promises to give them a "sitting" it is more in the nature of a "running," the artist or sculptor doing the running—after the cardinal. As the head of the Cutholic Church in this country he is a very busy man, and he has few unoccupied moments. He is loth to make engagements in advance for sittings, since he can never tell when something unexpected will turn up. even in his minstrel days, whether on railroad journeys or during leisure mo-ments elsewhere, he was busy with his

MEYER'S SPEECH HELD TO BE TAFT'S VIEWS

Naval Program of United States Seems Certain to Continue Expanding Under the Present Administration-Effect on Congress.

That Congress will have put up to it seated and genuine and not the mere a hig program of naval construction next fall is looked on as a certainty.

If President Taft carries out his inention to go to the Pacific coast the coming summer, it is likely he will take occasion in some of his speeches there to indorse the policy of a greater navy to indorse the policy of a greater navy and leave no doubt that he wants the upbuilding of the navy to proceed with all reasonable dispatch. passing hysteria of a moment is well understood here in navy, army, and dipa big program of naval construction next fall is looked on as a certainty. Despite all the talk of economy in Government expenditures, it is considered certain that President Taft will urge Congress the next regular session to appropriate for at least two great battleships of the Dreadnought type in addition to the usual list of smaller warships.

The speech of Secretary of the Navy Meyer at Boston recently, in which he poke out strongly for two great battleship fleets, one in the Atlantic and one in the Pacific, is looked upon here as a forerunner of what the Administration will stand for 1 the way of a naval building policy. Mr. Meyer undoubtedly spoke with the sanction of President Taft and not until he had conferred with Mr. Taft. The speech, as viewed here, was intended to serve notice that this Administration would be as earnest as the Roosevelt administration was for the upbuilding of a greater navy.

The demands for economy at the next session of Congress will be strenuous, but it is apparantly not the wish of Mr. Taft to permit the navy to suffer in consequence of the need for tightening the purse strings.

REPORT ON CENSUS BILL IS PRESENTED

Crumpacker Puts Conference Maesure Before House Today.

Representative Crumpacker of Inliana, today presented to the House the conference report on the Census bill, and asked that it be printed. No attempt was made to read the report, inasmuch as Mr. Crumpacker loes not expect to have it passed un-

Moreover, the English naval experts are practically ceasing to calculate on

Dr. Sur uck Says: "I Feel Justified in hal as the Assertion That It Is the Only Successful Method of Removing Hair."

Every woman who is afflicted with operfluous hair will undoubtedly be rlad to know that there is one proper and logical method of getting rid of this most annoying and embarrassing and logical misthod of getting rid of this most annoying and embarrassing disfigurement.

The best authorities in the medical profession agree that De Miracle will destroy hair successfully, although there are many other unreliable things, which claim to do it. The success which has attended this preparation as a means of removing hair is based upon the method by which it works. It is a purely scientific principle and totally different from the pastes and powders and other remedies which simply break off the hair in the same way that the razor does, making the hair when it grows out again heavier than before.

As far as the electric needle or X-ray is concerned, both are not only unsatisfactory, but dangerous as well. The scars and burns of the electric needle last for a lifetime, and the dangers of the X-ray are indeed serious.

De Miracle may be used without any inconvenience or danger of any kind. The method by which it removes hair should not be classed or compared with that of the fake free treatments which are advertised so extensively in the newspapers.
